Dedication

One hundred years ago, on February 11, 1858, to be exact, Our Lady's first apparition at Lourdes took place. On this, the occasion of her first appearance, Our Lady spoke not a word, but made a big sign of the Cross and began to finger the beads of her rosary. Bernadette Soubirous, the child to whom the Blessed Virgin appeared, fell on her knees and began to do likewise. When she had finished, the vision was gone.

On each of the succeeding visits also, Bernadette unfailingly carried her rosary with her and prayed it while waiting for Our Lady to appear.

On this, the centenary of that miraculous apparition, we ought, like Bernadette, to follow Our Lady's example and pray the rosary - say it daily and not only during this year but in every year on every day of our lives.

We, the Senior Class of 1958, hope that by dedicating this annual to Our Lady of Lourdes and to the increased saying of her rosary, we may help, however slightly, in bringing about world peace and a fuller understanding of the brotherhood of men.

O, Mary,

keep us

in thy care;

Make of each school day

a prayer.

The high school dads defeated those of the grammar school in a basketball game by a score of 24-14.

Library Club

Ready, willing, and able to help their fellow students enjoy the best in literature are Librarians Sylvia Haydel, Peggy Ocmond, Diane Flesch, Sylvia Savarese, and Linda McMillin.

Junior Red Cross

Looking over the Christmas gifts purchased by the Junior Red Cross for needy children are its officers: Rose Avegno, Vice-President; Jo Ann Selzer, President; Margaret Miller, Secretary; and Tozzie Martin, Treasurer. This organization also sponsors many other charitable projects throughout the year.

Snow in New Orleans

Mireya and Neyer Guillen admire the beautiful and rare sight of snow in New Orleans.

Let it snow; let it snow; let it snow! sing Francia Nunez and Maria Pia Carlin as their snowman begins to take shape.

Initiation Marks the Beginning of School Activities

Do a good job, Freshies, or it's Kangaroo Court for you!

The Freshies, the babies of the school, drink their bottles as a reminder of their status.

Following the day's playful frolicking comes the seriousness of the candlelight ceremony. Here, Senior Alma Borja lights the candle of her "Little Sister" Rosemary Christiana as she becomes officially accepted and welcomed into the student body.

Ring Ceremony

One of the biggest events in the life of a Senior is the Ring Ceremony, which is held in Church. The rings are blessed and given to each girl to remind her of the devotion, respect, and loyalty which should govern her life as a result of the teaching of our school.

Senior Retreat

Each year the Seniors make a closed retreat separate from the rest of the school. The retreat this year took place at the Convent of the Most Holy Sacrament in Lafayette, Louisiana. The quiet and meditative atmosphere gives the girls a chance to think seriously about their future as their high school days near an end.

Dances

The hobgoblins and witches and black cats don't seem to be bothering these students as they enjoy themselves at the Halloween Dance.

At the Winter Formal one dance is saved for Beauty Court members and their dates only...

...But for all the others the dance floor is crowded.

Halloween Party

"Want to buy a balloon, little girl?"

Long cakes, round cakes,
Fancy cakes, pound cakes.

Daughters have a date with dad.

Father-Daughter Buffet

Sophomores entertain with their pantomine interpretation of "Gossip."

Queen for a Day

Miss Vita Rose Colombo of Freshman III was crowned "Queen for a Day" of Annunciation High School on November 15, 1957. She, of all of the students, collected the highest number of five cent votes. As a reward, our Queen was showered with the numerous gifts that were offered as prizes.

Vita Rose admires one of her most treasured prizes, an autographed picture of Ricky Nelson.

Our Queen and her father were treated royally at Arnaud's where they received a free dinner.

Senior Play

Unexpected developments force the girls to stay overnight.

Shotput makes her grand entrance.

NINE GIRLS

This suspense-packed drama, presented by the Seniors, consisted of an all-girl cast. These nine girls visit a mountain lodge and become involved in several mysterious murders. In the end, the crimes are solved and Mary is uncovered as the murderess.

Unscrupulous Mary coldly watches her second victim succumb to the poison put in her drink.

Mary and Glamorpuss struggle for possession of the javelin.

Junior Play

Assisted by boys from Cor Jesu High School, the Juniors enacted a comedy entitled "Our Miss Brooks." It concerns an English teacher who is called upon to direct the school play and finds it necessary to cast some of the school's athletes. This causes conflicts with the coach upon whom she had been trying to make a good impression.

Miss Brooks has a talk with the coach.

Miss Brooks demonstrates the art of creating inexpensive sound effects.

Enters the outraged mother because her daughter was not given the lead in the play.

Cast of "Our Miss Brooks."

Junior-Senior Prom
